Richard Medeiros

Koco, a strapping young lad from a small, South Sea Island, tugged hard at the rudder of his self-made cockle raft. Conscientiously, he tried to steer for the outer edge of the coral reef surrounding his island and stretching forty miles toward the great sea beyond. Following the custom of his ancestors, by sailing alone for four months to the edge of the reef, he was valiantly enduring the last month of his venture and was yearning, now more than ever, to catch the Golden Fish, which schooled only in the deep sea by the reef. He must catch this fish and bring it home as a proof of his long journey and of his approaching manhood; he must show that all his training had not been in vain.

Prologue

For three months he had been floundering in the arms of the sweeping sea. He had seen his sail burst full with a strong wind, taking him far; he had seen his one-mast sail flap undecidedly in a slight breeze. There were periods of heat throughout the day and brilliant reflected light by night, as well as gray-leadens skies and nights stripped of the navigator's guide, the stars. Now, it was only a short way to the home of the Golden Fish, and though it seemed far, he was more determined than ever.

Likewise, our High School career is drawing to a swift end, and our future lies at the edge of the reef. We, too, have had our gray skies and our warm days at Cambridge High and Latin. With the fruits of knowledge we have gained here, we must set out in quest of the goal which will bring us success in life. We wonder if we, like Koco, will catch our Golden Fish and earn our places.

WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK

As we say farewell to high school, we should like to express our gratitude to those who have done so much for us. To our parents we say thank you for the long nights you stayed awake when we were ill, the sacrifices you made, the encouragement you gave us, and the lessons you taught us. We salute our teachers, also. We acknowledge our indebtedness for the many hours "beyond the call of duty" which you gave us unselfishly, in spite of our faults and wrong doings. You bestowed upon us guidance, inspiration, and knowledge.

Parents and teachers, if it is true that appreciation is the greatest reward one can receive for acts of kindness, you will have your reward, for we deeply appreciate all you have done for us. It is with great pride that we dedicate this yearbook to you, "The Dedicated."

Tribute

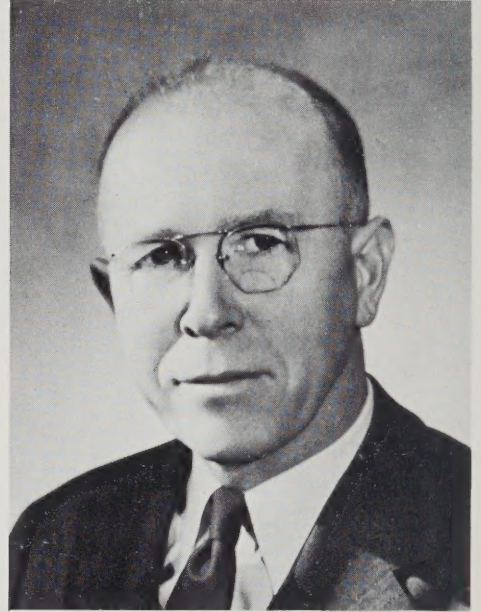

For the past four years we have been fortunate to have had at our helm a man whose principles of citizenship and education have become an inspiration for us all. Frankness and sincerity have been the ideals by which he has governed us and with this as our background, we pay tribute to our headmaster, Mr. John J. Sheehan.

Class Poem

The stepping stones
Lead ever on across the river-bed;
Some rest in calm, some glint in spray,
All lie beneath our tread.

The distant shore
For which we strive, lies hidden from our sight;
But Faith and Trust will guide the way
Though it be blackest night.

Another step
Will take us out amidst the turbid stream;
But we fear not; we walk with Hope,
Undaunted and serene.

We, the students of '57, being without a conceivable doubt, of insane mind beyond salvage, do hereby bequest the following gems in the esteem of our beloved school, Cambridge High and Latin, to which we wilfully have been forced to bid a fond farewell.

- I To Mr. Leonard, we leave a pair of Argyle knee-sock to add spirit and animation to his driving classes.
- II To next year's graduating class, we leave the thought, "If it were done when 'tis done, then t'were well it were done quickly."
- III To the remaining students, we leave an extra half minute to huff and puff into school.
- IV To the nurse, Miss Toole, we leave a large, economy size bottle of aspirin to treat the ailing, wailing students.
- V To the cafeteria we leave an inexhaustible supply of chairs and food, for obvious reasons!
- VI To Mr. Higgins, we leave welcomed relief with a history class which knows history.
- VII To the remaining classes, we leave the thrilling governor's proclamations to lull them to sleep.
- VIII To the football team, we leave a magnetic football attracted to the OPPONENTS' goal line.
- IX To the incoming seniors, we leave the wonderful spirit of the class of '57.
- X To Mr. Toomey's future homerooms, we leave four permanently closed windows for the winter season. Brrrrrr! ! !
- XI To each and every classroom, we leave a thirty inch color T.V. set, equipped with remote control.
- XII To the locker rooms, we leave more space to move around in, umbrella racks, places to put dirty boots, (and no lockers.)
- XIII To everyone wise enough to appreciate it, we leave the earnest desire for erudition!
- XIV To all our teachers and advisors, we leave sincere and lasting gratitude for their patience and guidance.

HISTORY

"June Is Bustin' Out All Over," and graduation has arrived at last! ! As we race through the corridors, having our yearbooks autographed by our former teachers, it is hard to believe that we haven't always been so superior. Four years ago in September 1953, as lowly freshmen we took our first step into this strange, enormous building. We stood there, frozen in our footsteps, gazing with awe at a vast jungle of teachers, books, and other students. Soon, however, we familiarized ourselves with our surroundings and began to take an active part in school affairs.

G. A. A. initiation — A picture we will never forget! The girls paraded through the corridors attired in weird creations topped off with a crowning glory of umteen million pigtails. Little did we know that this was only the beginning.

As the year progressed, we Freshmen participated in drawing up the constitution of the newly founded Student Council. During this year the Cecil B. Derry Chapter of the National Honor Society was founded at Latin. And so, with a wink of an eye, the year bounced by.

Our new title — Sophomores — otherwise known as "wise fools!" As our teachers said, "You can tell a Sophomore, but you can't tell him much." To start the year off with a bang, our boys were decked in a new style of pegged pants with weird stripes up the sides, blue suede shoes, and D. A. haircuts, affectionately termed by Mr. Sheehan as "District Attorney." Trying to outshine the boys, the girls came attired in Bermuda skirts and Argyle knee socks. Not only in fashions did we leave an impression, but in all phases of school activities. We now had three representatives on the Student Council namely, George Darveris, Thomas Carmody, and Paul Wheeler.

The G. A. A. Formal was held in the Hotel Commander as usual; and now, as Sophomores, we had the privilege of attending. We could hardly recognize our fellow classmates in their formal attire.

During football season our class helped to cheer the boys to victory. Although we did not have many boys from our class on the team, we celebrated a tremendous victory of 20-0 over our traditional rivals, Rindge, on Thanksgiving Day.

Our Dramatic Club, including some Sophomore members, presented an outstanding program at Curtain Time, and the presentation of the Taming of the Shrew went on to win a place in the State Finals of the Drama Festival held at John Hancock Hall.

Once again we climbed to the top by going on to win a place in the Tech Tourney by the brilliant performances of our basketball team.

Finally, plans were drawn up for the new War Memorial Gym and swimming pool; simultaneously, the basic outline for the new Junior Kiwanis Club, The Keys, was laid. The Sophomore year was certainly a happy and eventful one except for the grief caused by the death of a beloved classmate, Joseph Mills.

The next year, another giant step was taken, and we found ourselves on the second floor.

We thought we were finished with initiations after the G. A. A. episode in our Freshman year, but the K. B. had a big surprise in store for us. If you thought the girls were hideous at the G. A. A. initiation, they were even "hideous-er" in their weird make-up which was placed on half of the face. In addition, they carried decorated pillow cases over their shoulders. In sharp contrast to the appearance of the girls at the initiation was the delicate femininity at the K. B. Informal which was held at the new Y. W. C. A. Hall.

This year we elected our first class officers, and for the first time in the history of the school there was a tie for the office of president between Arthur Botelho and Lawrence Ferrazani. After a second election for the office of President, the results were:

PresidentLawrence Ferrazani
Vice-PresidentJames McHugh
SecretaryHeather Shain
TreasurerEllen Coady

Prom Committee Members were:

Elizabeth McCarthy, Chairman
Joanne Giglio
Barbara Donatio
Frances Hamilton
Robert Souza

The Key Club, which was planned in the Sophomore year, was chartered in the Junior year at an elaborate program attended by many outstanding members of the Kiwanis Clubs from different parts of Massachusetts. This year, too, the newly formed Future Nurses' Club, the Caps, came into full swing.

We had another first in our Junior year, "Junior Fun Day," under the able direction of our new master, Mr. Edmond Murphy. We had never realized the talents of our fellow classmates before this, and the affair was a "howling" success.

Along with "April Showers," came the Junior Prom — a truly unforgettable night. The Hotel Commander was gaily decorated by members of the Prom Committee. Everyone had a wonderful time dancing to the strains of Steve Scotti's orchestra. And so with a fond "See you later, Alligator," we bade each other adieu, and left for our summer vacation.

In September as we returned for our last year, we found to our great disappointment that our request for an express elevator to the third floor had not been fulfilled; and so, we prepared for the long climb which awaited us every morning.

Now, we had finally reached our ultimate and seemingly unattainable goal—we were SENIORS ! !

Again we became politicians on a small scale, as class elections drew near. When the shouting and campaigning had died down and the votes were cast and counted, the results were:

PresidentGeorge Darveris
Vice-PresidentArthur Botelho
SecretaryElizabeth McCarthy
TreasurerVirginia D'Arcangelo

The Prom Committee members were:

Dorothy McKay, Chairman
Estelle Kyett
Joyce Gnerre
Barbara Scaringi
Elaine Karrol

Two more elections followed shortly afterward: The D. A. R. Good Citizen Award, won by Joyce Brown, and the Senior Popularity Poll, which set us all thinking.

This year our football team broke the jinx and set a record by beating our traditional rivals, Rindge, for the third straight year. We celebrated our victory at the Yearbook Dance on Thanksgiving night, and a good time was had by all. This was soon followed by the K. B. Pizza Party, and Justin Ryan, Bill Brunelle and Bradley Rye provided the entertainment for the evening. This year, too, the hockey team came back to life and had a very successful season.

Sadness again darkened our path with the passing of Mr. Joseph Freni, Miss Mabel Harrington, Miss Mary O'Shea, and Miss Gertrude Ford.

Once we had survived the ordeal of January Aptitudes, we began to relax a little, but not for long. Some of us began to prepare for the March exams which helped to decide our future, and others were preparing for the business world. While all of this was going on, the boys had made plans to defend our nation for Uncle Sam.

After the K. B. Informal we began to look forward to our Senior Prom. Finally it arrived — "The Loveliest Night of the Year."

After the distribution of Yearbooks, we Seniors all filed into the Cleveland Auditorium for our Class Day — a day to be remembered!

And so, this brings us up to date as we anticipate Graduation tonight — the climax of four memorable years at C. H. L. S.

Hello, and welcome to the reunion of the Cambridge High and Latin School, class of 1957. Walker Memorial has not changed much since we held our Senior Reception here.

Later, we shall hear a few words from the Governor, George Darveris, and the Mayor of Cambridge, Justin Ryan. But for now, we shall meander among the groups of classmates who have not seen each other for fifteen years, and have convened in all parts of the pavillion just as they used to gather in the corridors at C. H. L. S., and we shall find out what everyone is doing now.

Perhaps the punch bowl would be a good place to start. Here we see Bill Brunelle, on leave from the Navy and all spruced up in his admiral's uniform, talking with Eddie Silva, a recent winner on "The $999,999.99 Question", his category being American History (Bless Mr. Higgins!), and Teresa Clunan President of "Intellectual Artists, Inc."

Some of the former members of Home Room 309 are reviewing the good old days at C. H. L. S. . . . Here, we see Frank Brennan and his secretary, Helen Kelly; Carolanne Ciccarelli and June Nevins, who both work at the Massachusetts General Hospital; Carol Massé and Jean Grant, who are with the Bell system; and Janet Craven and Jacqueline Sisto, whose last names have been changed.

Judy Cox and Joyce Gnerre, singers at Bob O'Neill's "Club Sophisticate," and Joan Worthen, who dances there, are gazing worshipfully at Don Flaherty, who plays football for the Cleveland Browns.

Farther on, we find Mary Brennan, Virginia D'Arcangelo, Anna Feli, Roberta Giardini, and Mary Hannon, who work at Filene's, enthralled with the story of their President, Richard Bento, who is telling about his plane trip across the country, and the gallantry of his pilot, Robert Lettieri.

Standing across from them, Edalina Ferreira, wife of the President of Carter's Ink, and Marie Gigante, head teller at the Harvard Trust Co., are discussing stocks with Philip Green, President of the Harvard Trust.

Next we find Alexander Spillin telling model Roberta Johnson about his latest trip abroad; John Brady and Simone Montminy exchanging ideas about Uncle Sam's Navy with Lindsay Sparks and Gerard Battista; while Mary Anaskevich, Lillian Thorne, Mabel Talis, Isabel Morin, and Dorothea Horgan discuss the plight of the modern private secretary.

Standing a little apart, are Patricia Botelho, Eleanor Scannell, Walter Shields, Karen McKinley, Brenda Brizzolari, Barbara McLaughlin, and Arthur Botelho, all teachers in the Greater Boston area.

Stopping at the next group, we find that Barbara Graham and Carol Cussen are switchboard operators at the Commander Hotel; Jean Lightbourne, Emily Szulewski, Juanita Hayes, Marilyn Nelson, Nellija Veinbergs, Judy MacNeill, and Marcia Burnett are nurses at the Deaconess Hospital; and that Alvin Thompson and George Ward are playing football for the Green Bay Packers.

We find that many firms are owned by our former classmates. For instance, Frances Zalgenas, Catherine Ward, Elodia Fantuazzi, Sarah Thibault, Marie Galeno, Marilyn Shaw, and Joan Knight work at the firm of Lawrence Ferrazani, who manufactures "Everything for the Pre-schooler"; Sandra Horne, Patricia Lightbourne, and Mildred Lewis rent steam shovels to Joe Bellissimo's Construction Co.; and Burton Grossman is the President of "Chemichron" Chemical engineering plant.

Our class is also prominent in the medical field. Gertrude Dalpé is the busiest psychiatrist in Boston and has the magic piano of Carolyn Jasper as background music at her office. Jocelyn Flamand is the treasurer of "Painless Dentists Inc." Bette Beardsley, the wife of a leading Boston surgeon, is writer of the hit song "Longo-Bongo-Congo." Joyce Brown is the head dietitian at Harvard University.

Before we continue, we have to dodge the dancers. Heidi Shain, of Broadway Stage Fame, is dancing with Jim Robinson, producer of John Courtney's latest hit in the musical comedy field; Tom Coady, head of the Cambridge Water Department, is dancing with his wife; Vincent Korkusas, newly appointed head of the Recreation Department, is dancing with his secretary, Barbara Harrington; and Willard Hall, the Brattle Street architect, is dancing with novelist Diane Perotta who recently returned from a trip to Italy with her secretary-companion, Elizabeth White.

Near the band, led by Bill Turtle, Frances Choolfain, who dances with the Sadler Wells Ballet, and Warren Doolin, teacher of modern dancing at Rindge, are putting on an exhibition for Angela Spinosa, Dawn Osborn, Antoinette Cornelio, John Tobin, Carol Larkin, Elizabeth Gallagher, Madeline Herman, and Geraldine Bridgeman, who work for Life, Inc., the famous American Insurance Company. Nearby, we notice that Allan Joy and Bill Budryk are trying to sell policies from this company to John Ingalls, Arthur Aronson, Eddie Crowley, Richard Gibbons, and John Mahoney. These men are good prospects because they are supersonic test pilots.

Near the entrance, Peter Lorey, Richard Bokavich, and Ernest Abreu, of the Cambridge Fire Department are talking to Frank Stewart, Chief of Police. As we speak to them, we notice Joan Bantz, Jeanette Dellano, Dorothy Pearson, Margaret McAnirlin, Laura Davis, Margaret Costa, Sandra LeVie, and Patricia Marsden arriving late after the annual dinner for secretaries.

Moving on, we speak to Jim McHugh and Gerald Courtney who work at Howie Strathie's meat plant with James Sullivan whose job is to tie the strings on salami; Sally Chateaufneuf and Kathryn Delaney, who design "Fabulous Fashions," and Frances Kaduboski who models them; William Ernst, President of the "Ultra-Ultra-Ultra Ray" company on the riverway; and Richard Medeiros, who recently won an award for his comic strip in "Monkey Manual."

When we approach the large group of ladies near the pillar, we hear the former Marilyn Stacey, Leah Gurskis, Pat Grant, Anna Sico, Virginia Kennedy, Deborah Rice, Anne Silipigni, Brenda Leary, and Sheila Corcoran discussing their homemaking joys and problems, plus the educational plans for their children.

Passing Carlo Mosca, who just published his latest book on Botany, we meet Tom Martin, inventor of the new home permanent, "Martin-it," and John Norton who pours it into bottles under the careful supervision of Tom McGrath.

Shirley Thompson, Alice Cabral, Barbara Scaringi, and Frances Sheehan tell us that they work at the animal hospital where Jim Nolan is the head veterinarian, and James Smith is in charge of dental work for the dogs, cats, etc. Elizabeth McCarthy is working at the State House with Diane DeMarco, Pat Leahy, Rose Marie LaRosa, Joanne Giglio, and Franny Hamilton.

Passing members of the social set, Carol Robinson, Janice Smart, Carol Crilly, Susan Slate, Carol Kennedy, and Judy Scott, we over hear them discussing yesterday's tea at the home of Jean Caruso.

Anita Samson, Claudette Fournier, Clarissa Graham, Pat Hegarty, June Lee, Martha Martin, Barbara Donatio, Maureen Sullivan, and Claire Williams are standing in a group, and we learn that they are buyers for James Keefe's Doll Furniture Company.

George Stansbury of radio station B-O-R-E has just arrived. He was broadcasting the panel discussion "Should Politics be Mixed in the Judicial Spot," starring as the panel members: Tom Carmody, George Daniels, Carol Cuff, and Alice Cabral, who are all active in the political picture.

Other late arrivals are the Rev. Richard Joyce who has a parish in Vermont; Myrna Whalen, who has been traveling with the C. H. L. S. Dramatic Club as their advisor; Bruce Hunter who has been abroad coaching the Olympic stars, and Robert Peraner, the lawyer defending Robert Cleland, who is being sued for overpaying his employees.

Back at the bandstand again, James Ash, Philip Stein, Ronald Gomes, and Robert Tisdale are talking about their respective successes in the pharmaceutical business, while Robert Stewart and Elaine Etsell, court reporters, and Joyce McDermott and Eleanor Spagnuolo, legal secretaries, are rehearsing the morning's session at court.

Turning away, we see Vivianne Carey and Sylvia Smiltens, partners in a commercial art studio, talking with John Turner, Paul W. Sullivan, Paul Norton, and Bob Souza, chefs at leading Boston hotels.

While talking to Donna MacDonald, Janet Lynch, and Sandra Hamparzoomian, reporters for the "Chronicle Sun," and William McCambly, the editor, we learn that Estelle Kyett is the wife of the President of Harvard University. Tom Welch is a promising young executive at Jordan Marsh Co., and Kathleen Ryan is the secretary to the secretary of the secretary to the Secretary of State, David MacMillan.

George Bushnack, James Jackson, John McLaren, Paul O'Brien, Eddie deMont, and John Savickas tell us that they drive trucks for Paul J. Sullivan's Moving Van Service, and Margaret Cleary, Frances Forsythe, Carol Sheehan, and Joan Grant, who are employed that concern, recommend them highly.

Russell Reinert, head of the Social Sciences Department at B. U., Maxine Winsor, Ernestine Ward, Barbara Trocki, and Mary Lam are listening to Joanne Loprete's account of her recent trip abroad.

Paul Wheeler informs us that Phyllis Robinson, Barbara Bennett, Ellen Coady, Frances Pishkin, Elaine Hoffman, Barbara Petersen, Ann Gamst, Shirley Egner, and Joan Liberaki are fashion designers for his "Fashions International."

Back at the punch bowl, Jim Cooper and Louis Andrade, physical therapists at the Hayden Memorial Hospital, Dr. Robert Jones, head of the research department at the Hayden Memorial Hospital, Elaine Karrol of his department, and his secretary Barbara Ward, are discussing the news of the medical profession, while Rita Murphy, Arlene Allen, Beverly Saunders, Lorraine Muscatel, Arlene Costa, and Mary Ann Jones are talking to Elizabeth Johnson, star of the Metropolitan Opera, and Charles Fillios, conductor of the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra.

Still wandering, we see Alan Salus, owner of "Fabulous Frankfurter" Cafeteria, who says that his great success is in no small part due to his wonderful car-hops, Tonu Hansman, Roberta McDonald, Rochelle Montminy, Joan O'Hare, Lorraine Gendron, Lorraine Madison, Dorothy Stack, and Sarah Totino.

On the edge of the space reserved for dancing, Richard Rudnicki, President of the Nebraska College of Liberal Arts, and Michael Amato, correspondent to the Middle East, are discussing world affairs with Susan Flaksman and Carl Strohminger, social workers in New York, and Chuang-i Chiu, Dean of Freshmen at Radcliffe.

Next to them is the entire secretarial staff of Russell Higley's law firm, consisting of Patricia Elliott, Brenda Fraser, Barbara Gallison, Dorothy Curry, Elaine Capone, Barbara Lamothe, Mary MacGillivray, Bernice Scappi, Mercene Mourousas, and Ellen Compton.

Remarking on the stunning hair styles of Gloria Butler, Marie Pinkus, Lucy Sutherland, and Rose Barber, we are surprised to learn that they were created by our own Virginia Belcamino, and that Cecilia Moreira did the actual hairdressing.

Carol Thomas, Carol Sheehan, Eleanor Dooks, Doris Mansir, and Sharon MacInnis of the Mount Auburn Hospital tell us that Barbara Olive, Dorothy Prynter, Ruth Smith, Barbara Waite, Lois McLellan, Rosemary Walsh, and Joan Ivanoskos are feature performers in the premiere of David Sanderson's newly invented "Sanderama" at Radio City tonight, and, therefore, could not be with us.

The next person to whom we talk is Linda Laurans, who, along with Doreen Souza, Sandra Lamantea, Joan Doherty, Theresa Leonardo, Barbara White, Isabelle Rose, Anita Saunders, Virginia Sheppard, and Betty Turner, puts metal tips on three-foot shoelaces at Richard Maguire's "Lasting Laces" company.

Louise Bowman, Mary Carroll, Robert Connell, Carol Corcoran, and Dermott Courtney work at the Aslanian Brothers' Electronics Company. Marcessia Gelowsky and Edna Jenkins, disc-jockeys at Jerry Gomes' radio station, are talking to Betty Hancock, leading recording star.

The crowd thins near the far end of the hall, and we can see Dorothy MacKay, Katherine Lovejoy, Sandra West, Joyce Daniel, Elaine Kyett, Beverly Sadler, Lily Yang, Priscilla Wahlen, Nancy Riddick, and Judy Shaw who teach at Marilyn Gray's "Finishing School for Young Ladies."

I guess that is about all we have time for now. I see the speaker ascending the platform. So, now I give you the President of our class who is now the Governor of our state, Mr. George Darveris.

The Review

Four years ago, we bought our first REVIEW. In those days, we read the Freshman Notes, the Pop Platter Parade and the jokes, and looked at the pictures. During our second year, however, we began to look eagerly for all the gossip in the Spotlight. Gradually, we became interested in some of the columns, such as the Club Notes, the Sports Page, the Fashion columns, the editorials, and, with a little pushing, we even passed in notes for the Spotlight. By now, we were juniors. Some of us were on the Literary Staff, and had the privilege of attending press conferences; others were on the business staff or the typing staff. During our senior year, a great change came about in the REVIEW. We had a newspaper rather than a magazine. Only time will tell if this move was a wise one.

We can't leave without thanking Miss Kelley, Mr. Higgins, and Mr. Santoro for all their help, for without them our REVIEW could never have survived.

Student Council

The Student Council, a service group, was started during our Freshman year, when a number of students petitioned the Headmaster to allow them to form a council for the purpose of representing the student body before the faculty and to further mutual interests of both.

The first representatives, elected by Australian ballot, enacted a constitution embodying rules by which the Council now functions. The membership is composed of five seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, two freshman, and one representative from each of the following: the Girls' Athletic Association, the Boys' Athletic Association and the school paper. There is also one representative for the social clubs.

In past years the Student Council has been active in raising cartons of clothing for impoverished families in the mountains of Tennessee; in the collection of toys for "Toys for Tots"; in collecting more than $1800 for the Muscular-Dystrophy Fund; in assisting in the sale of basketball tickets and the school paper; and in seeing that improvements were made in the school. For the first time this year, we participated in a student exchange program under the direction of Mr. Thomas Curtin of the State Board of Education.

The Student Council is becoming active, now, on the state level. In the near future, it is hoped that our school will be represented at the various high school conventions throughout the state.

We, the graduating class, wish the Student Council all the success they deserve.

K. B.

A hearty welcome was accorded thirty-one bewildered juniors who were initiated at the traditional candlelight ceremony held at the home of our President, Estelle Kyett. The initiation premiered a year of events highly rewarding, both socially and financially.

Among the many items on the K. B. agenda was the Pizza Party held on December fifteenth in the Girls' Cafeteria. Disc jockeys for the evening were the President and Vice-President of the Senior class, George Darveris and Arthur Botelho. A delightful time was had by all.

Soon after this, the club members plunged enthusiastically into preparations for the long awaited Informal. Their efforts proved to be successful and due to a large turnout, plus a program of unusual entertainment, the dance was hailed as truly the highlight of the season. Social activities were by no means concluded, however, for the girls engaged themselves during the spring by donating their time to various charity organizations.

At this time, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our capable advisors, Miss Mahar and Miss O'Neil, as well as to the club officers:

President	Estelle Kyett
Secretary	Jean Caruso
Treasurer	Joanne Loprete

who contributed much to make this year well worth remembering.

Girls' Athletic Association

At the beginning of our freshman year, amid braids, ribbons, gym suits, and shopping bags, we were initiated into the Girls' Athletic Association during a candlelight reception in the afternoon. Soon afterwards came a record hop, Christmas party, roller-skating party, bowling party and the annual banquet. The following years added a Christmas party at the Fernald School, the G. A. A. Formal, the Scholarship fund and the record machine and records which are used in the gym.

All these activities are but a supplement to athletics, which is the main purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association. The sports include basketball, volleyball, tennis, bowling, and softball. These sports, plus drill team and cheerleading, earn a letter or a trophy for the participant at the annual spring banquet.

Finally, we would like to thank Miss George and Miss Hyde for their help and co-operation during the last four years. May they continue to be a source of aid and assistance to the future officers and members of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Dramatic Club

We, the members of the Dramatic Club who are graduating, shall always cherish the fond memories which membership in the club has brought us. Although we spent several weeks tirelessly rehearsing and felt the tension before the rise of the curtain, we experienced the pride which comes when a performance is well done. Not only have we gained confidence before an audience, but also we have learned about backstage work.

There are many social events to remember, as well as performances before the student body and faculty, in exciting "Curtain Times," holiday programs, and the long to-be-remembered Christmas Pageants. And, of course, we can never forget the Massachusetts Drama Festivals with Doctor Faustus, The Taming of the Shrew, and especially The Last War, which won the New England Drama Festival.

Since none of these activities could have been possible without the sincere interest and expert guidance of Miss Hartigan and Mr. Guest, we wish to thank them for all their help.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, of which we are so proud, is made up of the Mixed Glee Club, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Girls' Choir, and has grown in size during our four years of participation. This increase in size, as well as the success with which the Club performs at various assemblies and ceremonies, is due largely to the untiring efforts of our director, Mr. Dominic Amoruso.

This year, the Glee Club presented a beautiful arrangement of background music for the Veterans' Day program. In March, a Glee Club assembly, featuring light and popular music, was presented to an enthusiastic student audience. In May, the Club continued its successful performances and brought recognition to the school in the Northeastern Music Festival.

We are proud of the high calibre of work that the Glee Club has produced during the years that we have participated, and we wish to express our thanks to all who made our success possible.

Projection Club

The Projection Club, part of the city's audio-visual department, is under the guidance of Mr. H. Clayton Haley.

Six periods a day throughout the year, this club assists the teachers and students by projecting films on their respective subjects. The boys in the club learn how to operate the wire and tape recorders and the lantern slides. The club functions at all assemblies.

Equipment needed for the meetings is entrusted to the senior members. Minor repairs are also made by the boys. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors may join the club.

The Junior Red Cross chapter in C. H. L. S. is a very active one. Under the capable supervision of Miss Ward, we tried to aid those who needed our help. Together, the representatives and pupils rendered many services. For the hospitalized veterans we collected magazines; for underprivileged children we gave Christmas gifts; for the young people of Hungary we filled gift boxes with items such as soap and tooth brushes.

We are a small but important part of the Red Cross, and as we go our separate ways in the world, we shall not forget this worthy organization. Yes, we shall continue to give to the American Red Cross, confident that they will use our donations to give help and hope to those less fortunate than we.

Future Nurses' Club

"CAPS"

Two years ago, Carol Anne Pentz won the "Know New England Contest," and received a sum of money for herself as well as for the school. Carol, whose ambition is to be a nurse, expressed the desire that a club for future nurses be started. Her wish came true, and today there is such a club, the "Caps."

This group affords opportunities for members to become acquainted with their future profession through visits to hospitals and through guest speakers. It helps the girls who are not sure whether or not they like nursing to make up their minds.

We, the graduating class, hope that this club has many successful years to come, and that many a girl will be led to the nursing profession through its efforts.

Key Club

One of the newest organizations at C. H. L. S., The Key Club, celebrated its first anniversary on November 25, 1956 with the installation of the new officers: President, George Daveris; Vice-President, Arthur Botelho; Secretary, Francis Burns; Treasurer, Bradley Rye. With these fine officers and a great deal of "new blood" in the form of Sophomores and Juniors, the Key Club presented a program that was outstanding.

Key Club International's basic job is to be of service, to raise funds, and perform deeds to help others. This and all the principles of Key Club are the same as those of its sponsoring order, Kiwanis International.

This year's first and major project was a dance held in conjunction with the Student Council. With the profits of this dance, we established a reserve treasury to be available for any needs of the club in its service work.

We had several inter-club meetings and projects similar to those held last year with the Rindge Key Club. Part of the proceeds of these projects went to the Key Club Scholarship Fund which is awarded to an outstanding senior Key Club member each year.

We should like to thank Mr. Herlihy, our faculty advisor; Mr. Sheehan, our headmaster; and Dr. Whorisky, the Kiwanis representative, for their aid and advice in all of our projects, past, present, and future.

Science Club

The C. H. L. S. Science Club, including the fields of biology, chemistry, physics, and general science, was formed this year because of the interest shown in science by many of the students. Miss Walsh volunteered her services as faculty adviser. The club has joined the National Science Club of America and has made plans for the future. These plans include weekly projects and trips to places of interest.

The Club's first officers are:

President	Richard Bokavich
Secretary	Carlo Mosca
Treasurer	Ronald Gomes

Thus far, the club has proved to be successful, and we, the members, hope that it will continue to grow.

French Club

As in the past, the first meeting of the French Club was devoted to the election of officers. Justin Ryan was elected President, with the responsibility of the Vice-President going to Junior, Roberta Jackson. Teresa Salarno was elected as Secretary with Ralph Zeiff and Bill Brunelle sharing the job of Treasurer.

At the Christmas meeting, a short play in French was presented by three Freshman students. Robert Jackson won the chocolate Santa Claus offered as the prize for the winner of the Bingo game.

In February the majority of the members attended the annual dinner at Chez Dreyfus, near Harvard Square. This affair was one of the highlights of the club's social calendar.

Mardi Gras, which fell on the sixth of March, was observed by the French Club with a gala social event.

Miss Parsons, our faculty advisor, is a most essential part of the club because without her able assistance and guidance the club could not function successfully.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is an inducement to help acquaint its members with the customs of Spanish speaking countries, and in the past four years, the club has more than fully accomplished its purpose. The ceaseless efforts of the officers and Miss Cox, faculty adviser, have made it possible for the many members to enjoy dinner parties, trips to museums, various exhibits, and entertaining movies. Talks given by teachers about Spain and Mexico piqued the interests of the members and turned out to be some of the most popular events of the club's calendar. In addition, parties and social events have always been fully enjoyed, as was shown by the attendance.

A most commendable accomplishment, which is not to be forgotten, is the Club's Constitution. It was drawn up last year.

Thanks to all, members, officers, and teachers, "El Club Espanol" has had a happy four years.

German Club

This year, under the able supervision of Miss Wait, our advisor, the German Club has been very successful. At the elections on November first the officers chosen were as follows: President, Robert Peraner; Vice-President, Robert Cleland; Secretary, Katharine Lovejoy; and Treasurer, Mara Weinbergs. An Executive Board was chosen also to help plan our activities. Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of each month.

In December we held our annual Christmas Party.

We sang Christmas Carols "auf deutsch" and listened to German records, which were lent to us by Mr. Guest. Then, of course, we all enjoyed refreshments.

During the following months we spent an interesting evening at a German restaurant, saw a German movie, and had a wonderful time at the German Club Picnic.

We wish to thank Miss Wait for all that she has so willingly done for us.

The Cambridge Historical Sites Camera Club

The Cambridge Historical Sites Camera Club of C. H. L. S. is composed of a group of students organized to take pictures of historic houses, buildings, monuments, markers and sites in Cambridge. These enthusiastic young camera fans have been assisting the Cambridge Historical Commission in making an inventory of the buildings and sites in Cambridge that portray our early American colonial heritage. The Historical Sites Commission was organized by Mr. John Curry, City Manager, at the request of the Congress of the United States, which is appropriating money to be used in preserving our historic shrines.

These photos, with a list of historic places briefly described, made up the report of the Cambridge Historic Sites Commission, which was sent to Congress. These photos were published in a brochure, picturing the historic sites in Cambridge.

Football

The football team ended its season in a blaze of glory by defeating Rindge, 6-0, on Thanksgiving morning. The victory marked our third straight win over our inter-city rival. Prospects for 1957 are bright, with a strong nucleus in the line and backfield returning in quest of a fourth straight win over Rindge.

Hockey

Led by Captain John Mahoney, the Cantabs have had the best hockey team the school has seen in six years. The first two lines were made up of underclassmen, but the defense had last year's GBI all-star defenseman, "Red" Martin, and Junior, John Hickey. Ed DeMont, who played great hockey for his first year in the league, was the goalie. The improvement of the team was due to the fine spirit of the team and the great teaching of our new coaches, Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Downing. This is a growing team which is still in the running for the GBI crown. Tom Martin and John Hickey were chosen on the GBI All-Stars first team, and Tom was selected on the All-Star team made up of players from all the schoolboy hockey leagues.

Basketball

The basketball team, after a slow start, finished in fine fashion to compile the good record of eleven wins and nine losses against outstanding competition. The season was highlighted by two straight victories over Rindge. Co-captain, Paul Sullivan and Jim Gnerre were the high scorers; Jim Cooper, Paul O'Brien and Co-captain, Dave Harrington excelled in rebounding; Paul Solberg and Jim Owens performed a great job defensively. Walter Shields was a most effective all-round man, and Jim Owens showed great promise in his first year of competition.

With a fine nucleus returning for next year's squad, Coach Sheehan has high hopes for another Suburban League Championship and a bid to the Tech Tourney.

Track

The track team has enjoyed a successful year in its Metropolitan League competition.

Captain George Daniels and Walter Shields compiled outstanding records. Walter was a double first-place winner in every Metropolitan League dual meet.

Ron Cinnelle and Jimmy Owens have done a fine job in the thousand-yard run; both boys placed with "times" better than 2:41.

Paul Solberg and Jimmy Eisner were our milers and along with Peter Mpontsikaris, Billy Comins and Tommy Welch, our 600 yarders, strengthened the team greatly.

Bob Solokof threw the shot over 44 feet, and George Ward and George Stansbury threw it beyond the forty foot mark.

The runners in our five relay team were Captain George Daniels, Jimmy Owens, Jimmy Cooper, Walter Shields, Billy Comins, Bruno Maraco, Jerry Mohan and Peter Mpontsikaris.

Golf

The golf team has improved considerably during the past four years, and this improvement is due to the excellent training and patience of ex-Coach Ronan and Coach Landrigan. Returning this year were the Senior Co-Captains, Joseph Gentile and Russell Higley, and letter-men Senior, James Sullivan and Sophomore, Al Petroulas. The newcomers to the team were Juniors: Bill Commins and Will Edmonds; Sophomores: Alan Patterson, Woody Quimby, David McLellan, Robert Condon, and John Tomasello;

Freshmen: Eddy Whitam, Carl Edmonds, Eddy Walsh and Charles Sullivan.

Golf has provided an opportunity for newcomers to learn the game as well as giving our experienced players the benefits of competitive games with other high schools. We are deeply appreciative to the Golf Club for its interest in our athletic program.

RUSSELL HIGLEY
 JOSEPH GENTILE

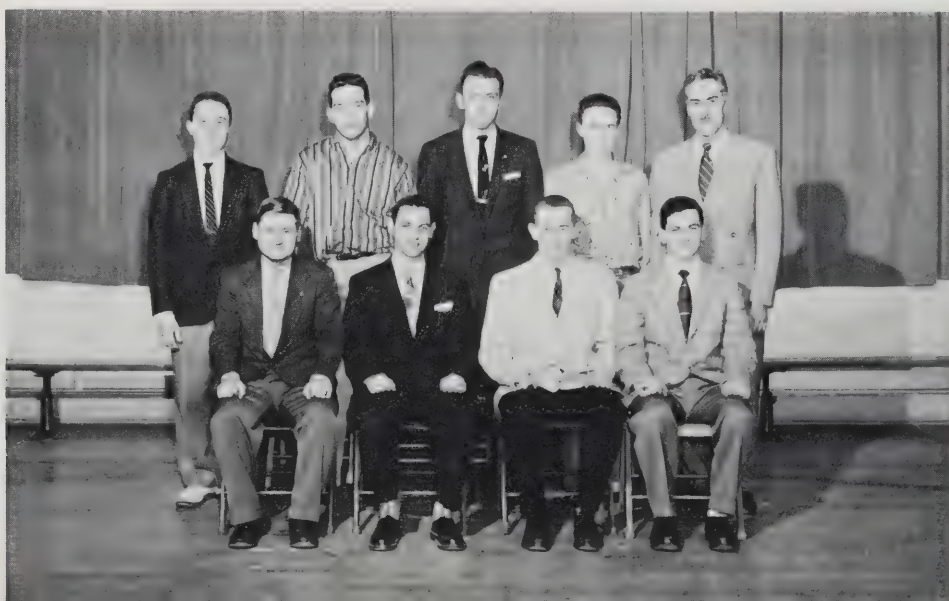

Tennis

The tennis team lost three veterans; only four players remained from last year's team. The returning members, Captain, Arthur Aronson, Burton Grossman and Lester Isenstadt did very well this year in the Metropolitan League under Mr. Cohen, our untiring coach.

With the increasing interest shown in the game of tennis, we hope that C. H. L. S. will have some fine squads in the ensuing years.

Baseball

The high school baseball team continued to show progress under the re-building program instituted by Mr. Foley a year ago. A great many underclassmen dominated the squad which played in the Suburban League. This baseball league is the strongest league in this section of the country, and we are happy that we engage in such strong competition.

Epilogue

Patient from experience, Koco waited for the first wind which could ease him forward. Catching a strong enough breeze, the native boy skillfully guided his small and weathered craft to the edge of the reef. Reaching the great, pitching sea, he caught his Golden Fish after many attempts. Then, he quickly turned his craft starboard and aft, and started back to his people and home land, sitting proudly at the stern of his boat as the Golden Fish glistened in the sunlight. Koco was content and happy, for he had set a goal and had attained it.

Now, we have graduated from high school, but our ultimate success is still ahead of us. Some of us will work; others of us will go on with our education. Whatever we do, success will be ours if we follow Koco's example of patience and fortitude.

May we, the graduating class of 1957, continue to work for success and may our efforts be rewarded.
